Dear Students:

Welcome to the CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies (SLU), the only interdisciplinary program in Labor and Urban Studies in the nation. We are pleased you have made the decision to pursue your education by studying at SLU, especially in these unprecedented times of COVID-19. SLU is driven by a set of core values—access to education, diversity at every level, social justice, and equality for all—that are more important now than ever before. There has never been a more auspicious moment to attend a school of labor and urban studies: to prepare for careers in public service, to participate in movements for social and racial justice; and to develop organizing and leadership skills that you can utilize at your union and in your community. We share your commitment, and look forward to helping you achieve your academic and professional goals.

The Office of Student Affairs is an integral part of student success at SLU. Throughout your academic journey, the dedicated student affairs staff will be here to guide and support you. The Office of Student Affairs offers a range of programs and student services, including writing assistance, advisement, career services, counseling and wellness, emergency grants, veteran services, accessibility services and more to meet student’s needs. During the Fall 2020 semester, the full complement of SLU’s student services will be provided remotely, so we encourage you to take advantage of all the resources and opportunities available to you.

The Student Handbook is a supplement to the SLU Catalog and serves as your guide to the School. The handbook has information about student rights, University and School policies, and rules and regulations that all students at SLU are required to adhere to, as well as the academic and student services available at SLU. We hope that you will use the Student Handbook throughout your time at SLU.

Welcome to the SLU community!

Sincerely,

Rochel Pinder-Cuffie
Director of Student & Community Affairs
Important Notice of Possible Changes

The City University of New York (CUNY) reserves the right, because of changing conditions, to make modifications of any nature in the academic programs and requirements of the University and its constituent colleges without notice. Tuition and fees set forth in this publication are similarly subject to change by the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York. The University regrets any inconvenience this may cause.

Every effort has been made to make the material presented herein timely and accurate. As changes occur, they will be communicated via traditional media and reflected on the School’s website. Students are encouraged to check the website to determine the most up-to-date program and course information and to make use of the Student Degree Audit System to track progress toward graduation. Critical points of fact or interpretation should be considered subject to confirmation by the appropriate office or department of the School.

The School does not guarantee to offer all courses it announces. The announcement is made in good faith, but circumstances beyond the control of the School sometimes necessitate changes. The School may cancel courses if the enrollment does not warrant their being offered or if other contingencies make such a cancellation necessary.

The CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies is accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education through the Graduate School and University Center. Last accreditation 2015, reaccreditation scheduled for 2019-2020

The School of Labor and Urban Studies (established 2018) is an outgrowth of the Joseph S. Murphy Institute for Worker Education and Labor Studies (JSMI). Named in honor of former CUNY Chancellor Joseph Murphy, a leader in adult and worker education for nearly 35 years. JSMI was established in collaboration with three New York City unions and began with 52 students. Today, the leaders of 26 labor and community organizations serve on its Advisory Board. More than 1,200 adult and traditional-aged students are currently enrolled in undergraduate and graduate degree and certificates programs in Labor and Urban studies and workforce development programs. The Joseph S. Murphy Institute will continue within the new School, focusing on workforce development programs and housing the School’s Community Service unit, with its public programming, research and publications.

The mission for the School derives from its core values: access to education, diversity at every level, social justice, and equality for all. It seeks to expand higher education opportunities for workers; prepare students who aspire to careers in public service and movements for social justice; promote civic engagement; provide leadership development for union and community activists; and help workers achieve greater economic security. Its perspective is unique, addressing the needs of its constituents while helping New York City and State fulfill their needs for a well-educated, highly skilled public and private workforce.

Four Pillars of Education
To accomplish its goals, the School has four units – or foundation pillars: Labor Studies, Urban Studies, Workforce Development, and Community Service. Advisors serve as a resource for support in navigating the degree and certificate programs, and a wide range of academic and professional opportunities. Students can also work with their advisors in assessing their developing skillsets and draw on related student support through the writing center, career services and counseling.
The guiding principles of Academic Advisement at SLU are the following:

- Facilitate student development through academic plans created in collaboration with the student, advisor, and faculty.
- Support a student-centered process that takes into account different levels of the student’s prior experience to support achievement of educational and personal goals.
- Foster smooth transitions by creating academic support initiatives that are continuously adjusted to fulfill different needs as students successfully navigate degree completion, as well as fulfilling their personal and professional goals. Events like New Student orientation, Student Forum, as well as customized advising sessions, and referrals to program support services help students navigate our educational institution.

Student Resources
Writing Center
The SLU Writing Center offers students one-to-one help on any writing project, at any stage of the writing process.

One of just a few writing centers in the country designed specifically to meet the needs of working adults, the SLU Writing Center is staffed by professional consultants who encourage your work and help you build on your strengths.

A Writing Center consultation can take many forms – from brainstorming an argument to polishing a references page. Usually, though, a writing consultant will read and respond to your work, offering concrete advice and, crucially, encouragement. Our writing consultants are all experienced classroom teachers, but, unlike your professors, they won’t give you a grade. Instead, they’ll give you what almost any writer needs in order to do her best work – a compassionate first read that identifies strengths as well as areas to develop. Consultations can be in-person, on the phone, or online, via chat. Students enrolled in any SLU program are welcome to use the Writing Center and its resources. The Writing Center is located at 25 West 43rd Street. For additional information contact 646-313-8326.

Computer Lab
Students have access to two computer lab workspaces, where printing services are available. Located at 25 West 43rd Street, CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies has computer lab access on a drop-in basis. Our on-campus lab is located on the 19th floor directly, on the classroom side of the building. Our workstations have all the latest applications necessary for completing coursework. Just present your ID to the receptionist and then use our lab. Remember, there are no reservations. Use is on a first come, first serve basis. SLU also has a loaner inventory of laptops, available for use at the Self-Serve Kiosk. The SLU IT Helpdesk is staffed to provide assistance as needed.

Additional computer workstations are available in the Mina Rees Library at the Graduate Center. These workstations have Microsoft Office applications, internet access for access to research databases and an E-Reserve system where professors can post class related content. As with on campus workstations, there are no reservations. It is first come, first serve.

Laptop Loaner Program
Students may borrow available laptops for use on-campus. Circumstances that generally warrant at-home use are impromptu school closures (i.e., natural disasters, threats to public/health/safety) or accessibility needs. Observation of federal holidays and scheduled term breaks do not qualify.

The loaner is a Windows-based PC that comes with standard software and a power adapter. The laptops are internally equipped with Wi-Fi for use where wireless access exists. All laptops are loaded with MS Office, Adobe Acrobat, as well as other SLU-approved software. Students can download the Laptop Loaner Form HERE.

A list of upcoming events can be found at https://slu.cuny.edu/public-engagement/public-programming/

New Labor Forum
SLU’s award-winning journal, New Labor Forum, was established in 1997 in the wake of the historic, contested elections at the AFL-CIO, seeking to make use of the space created by the ensuing rapprochement between labor leaders and left intellectuals, and social movement activists. During its decades of publication, New Labor Forum has provoked debate and informed discussion on the most crucial challenges confronting workers, working-class communities and organized labor. Students are offered discount subscriptions at nearly 50% off. For recent articles, poetry, and debates visit: https://slu.cuny.edu/public-engagement/new-labor-forum/

Civic Participation Programs at the Murphy Institute
In the wake of the Citizens United Supreme Court Decision, CEOs and lobbyists have gained increasing power in our national and local politics. The voice of poor and working-class Americans has diminished in comparison to the overwhelming political influence of corporate power in our political system. With the goal of elevating the participation of poor and working-class people in local and national politics, SLU offers a range of non-credit civic participation education and training programs.

Workshop and course topics include:

- Pivotal Movements at Pivotal Moments in U.S. History
- Engaging Power Mapping as a Guide to Action and Analysis
- Advocacy, Organizing, and Coalition-Building in Electoral & Non-Electoral Contexts
- Engaging Political Parties in the Policymaking Process

International Program on Labor, Climate Change, & the Environment
The International Program for Labor, Climate Change & the Environment serves as a hub for education, research, dialogue, and projects concerning organized labor and the environment. The program engages the international and domestic labor community around economic alternatives, environmental sustainability, and climate protection. For more information visit: https://slu.cuny.edu/public-engagement/iplce/

Community and Worker Ownership Project
The Community and Worker Ownership Project is intended to support a range of efforts percolating around the nation and the city focused on worker-owned cooperatives, economic democracy and community planning. In this age of burgeoning inequality, and pervasive challenges to political and workplace democracy, this project seeks to support undertakings in worker participation and control, as well as grassroots leadership in development. The Project (CWOP) will provide research, public forums, training and education in collaboration with University partners and a broad array of organizational stakeholders, including unions, worker centers, community-based organizations, businesses and worker cooperatives. For more information visit: https://slu.cuny.edu/public-engagement/cwop/

Student Rights & Student Policies
The rights and responsibilities of students are listed in numerous University policies and procedures. Students should familiarize themselves with these policies so that they understand their rights and are aware of their responsibilities as a member of the CUNY School of Labor & Urban Studies and CUNY community.

CUNY Policies on Student Requests for Name/Gender Changes
With respect to students’ names on official records, the law continues to require use of students’ legal names. Official records include academic records such as diplomas and transcripts. For non-official records, however, students must be permitted to select a preferred first and middle name. This policy is required by laws protecting against gender identity discrimination, including the New York City Human Rights Law. In addition, the law requires that students should be able to change their gender in CUNY records.

Student Conduct & Community Standards
The CUNY School of Labor & Urban Studies is committed to providing a quality educational experience for all students and to promoting a safe campus community. The School enforces the City University of New York (CUNY) rules and regulations through learning that fosters student growth and development in keeping with the School’s mission.

SLU students are expected to obey the laws of the city, state, and nation. SLU students are also responsible for familiarizing themselves and adhering to the policies, code of conduct and the Bylaws and resolutions of the CUNY Board of Trustees, including the rules and regulations of public order pursuant to Article 129-A of the education law (Henderson Rules).

While the policies, code of conduct and the Bylaws and resolutions of the CUNY Board of Trustees identifies the rules and regulations regarding student conduct, there is also an important expectation that all students at SLU will uphold the community standards of civility and respect in all interactions with members of the SLU community, as well as with members of the communities the School serves.

Incidents of sexual misconduct may be reported to designated campus official outlined in the policy.

Sexual and Interpersonal Violence Prevention and Response Course (SPARC)
SLU, as part of the City University of New York (CUNY) is committed to creating and maintaining a safe and respectful culture for all students. To that end, we educate our students about sexual and interpersonal violence, how to prevent and report these incidents, as well as provide information about resources that are available should a student need support in keeping with the New York State Education Law 129-b, also called the Enough is Enough (“EIE”) statute.

All newly admitted degree and certificate students, student government members, student leaders and members of other student groups designated by the University and/or SLU are required to complete the Sexual and Interpersonal Violence Prevention and Response Course (SPARC) before the start of the semester.

To access SPARC, log into Blackboard and locate SCHOOL OF LABOR & URBAN STUDIES STUDENTS SPARC FALL 2020 under My Organizations. You may also access the training via your To Do List in CUNYfirst. SPARC takes approximately 30 minutes to complete. Please note that non-completion will prevent registration for future semesters.
For more information about SPARC, please review the SPARC FAQ and Student Instructions Sheet. You may also visit the SLU Title IX webpage for additional information about the University’s efforts to combat sexual misconduct. If you do not see the SPARC course, please contact studentservices@slu.cuny.edu.

Resources for Combating Sexual Harassment/Sexual Assault (Title IX)

Anyone – of any gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, religious affiliation, citizenship status, race, class or educational level – can suffer from sexual harassment, including sexual violence. Student Disciplinary Policy and Procedures (Article XV)
Each student enrolled or in attendance at the CUNY School of Labor & Urban Studies and every student organization, association, publication, club or chapter shall obey (1) the laws of the city, state and nation; (2) the bylaws and resolutions of the board, including the rules and regulations for the maintenance of public order pursuant to article 129-a of the education law (“Henderson rules”); and (3) the governance plan,

Medical Withdrawal and Re-entry Policy
The City University of New York (“CUNY”) is committed to the academic success and personal growth of its students. As part of that commitment, CUNY and its constituent campuses are responsible for providing a safe learning and working environment for students, faculty, staff and other members of the University community. Some students may, because of a medical condition, engage in behavior that presents a direct threat of harm to themselves or to others, or substantially disrupts the learning or working environment of others. In such situations, the safety and security of the campus community, including the individual student, is paramount. This policy does not replace or supersede reasonable and appropriate security and health and safety measures, such as calling 911 or taking other immediate action in case of imminent threat to life or limb.

In addition to taking action to protect the security and safety of the campus community, a college may address the student’s conduct to determine if action under this policy or under the student disciplinary process is appropriate. When a student’s conduct that directly threatens or substantially disrupts the learning or working environment of others appears to relate to a medical condition, the campus may, at its option, address the student’s conduct either in accordance with this policy, or through the student disciplinary process. If the student’s conduct constitutes a threat solely to him or herself, it should be addressed under this policy rather than the disciplinary process.

General Education

The General Education Curriculum, also called Common Core Curriculum, is an educational experience shared by all CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies (SLU) students. The SLU General Education Curriculum is part of CUNY’s Pathways General Education Framework, requirements that undergraduate students across CUNY must satisfy. The three elements of this framework: the Required Common Core, the Flexible Common Core, and the SLU College Option Core, foster knowledge of human culture and the natural world (in science, social science, mathematics, humanities and the arts), intellectual and practical skills (in communication, quantitative reasoning, information literacy, critical thinking and inquiry), and individual and social responsibility (civic engagement, ethical reasoning, and intercultural awareness). Students may discuss with their advisor other courses from other CUNY schools that may fulfill their General Education requirements.

Transfer Credit Evaluation

Undergraduate transcripts from other institutions are carefully evaluated to give applicants credit for courses taken elsewhere that fulfill Common Core requirements. If you have concerns about how courses completed at another institution have been evaluated for transfer credit, please contact your advisor to review your Transfer Evaluation Credit Report. If, after appealing your Transfer Evaluation Credit Report,
CUNY SLU determines that additional credit is not warranted, SLU will issue its decision in writing within fifteen business days. If you wish to appeal CUNY SLU’s decision, you may submit your appeal to CUNY’s Office of Academic Affairs.

For more information about student rights and responsibilities under the Pathways Common Core Curriculum, click here.

Transfer Credit Policy for Bachelor of Arts
All bachelor’s degree candidates are eligible to transfer up to 90 academic credits from previous educational institutions. Students must successfully complete at least 30 academic credits after matriculation to the degree in the BA in Urban and Community Studies at the CUNY School for Labor and Urban Studies.

During the transfer evaluation process, courses taken at other institutions are used to fulfill CUNY SLU requirements, where possible. The credit value of transferred courses is assigned to match the credit value of the equivalent course. Other acceptable forms of transfer credit include credit for college-level subject-area examinations such as CLEP, UExcel or DANTES/DSST; and credit for ACE-evaluated corporate or military training.

Official transfer credit evaluations are made after CUNY SLU has received all final and official transcripts from all institutions attended, and a student is accepted into the program. All transfer credit evaluations must be approved by the Chair of the Department of Urban Studies. Students can expect to receive the official transfer credit evaluation prior to registering for their first term of enrollment. Transfer credit grades do not compute into the bachelor’s degree grade point average.

Transfer Credit Policy for Master of Arts
Once admitted into the MA in Labor Studies or Urban Studies, students may transfer from 3 to 12 academic credits from previous graduate programs into the degree, provided that the courses were completed with a grade of B or higher within five years of the time of application and are equivalent to comparable courses in the program.

Newly-enrolled students should work with their academic advisor in the first semester to complete the transferal process. Students applying to transfer credits must provide a course description and syllabus. The Department Chair will review these materials and evaluate transfer credits for their equivalence to specific courses and consistency with program learning objectives, standards, and norms.

Exceptions to these requirements may be considered under special circumstances, but students must present authoritative evidence of sufficient and current competence in the learning objectives of the courses whose credits the student wishes to transfer.

AUD - Auditor, listener.

INC - Incomplete. This is a temporary grade. The outstanding work must be completed by end of the following fall or spring semester. If the work is not completed by the end of the following semester, the INC is converted to a permanent grade of FIN on the record. When the course work is completed and the final grade received, the INC grade will be replaced.

W - Withdrawal. A permanent grade requested by the student after the Add/Drop period, and before the deadline in the academic calendar.

WA - Administrative Withdrawal. This grade, which does not affect the grade point average, is administratively assigned.

WN - Never attended. Calculated as the equivalent of a "W" in the GPA.

WU - Unofficial Withdrawal. Used when class participation has been established at least once in a term. Calculated as the equivalent of "F," in the GPA.

Note: Some programs have additional grade requirements. Refer to the program curriculum pages for specific requirements.

University Policy Concerning the Repeat of Courses In Which A Student Has Earned A Grade Of "F" or "WU"

When an undergraduate student receives the earned academic grade of "F," "FIN," "WU," or an administrative failing grade, and that student subsequently retakes that course and receives a grade of "C" or better, the initial grade of "F" will no longer be computed into the cumulative grade point average. The "F" will remain on the transcript. The number of failing credits that can be deleted from the grade point average calculation shall be limited to 16 for the duration of the student’s undergraduate enrollment in the institutions of The City University of New York (CUNY).
Satisfactory Academic Progress

Students are expected to make satisfactory academic progress. Generally, undergraduate programs throughout CUNY expect applicants to present an academic record with a minimum 2.0 GPA. A student is considered in good academic standing and making good academic progress when he/she has completed all coursework and exams in accordance with faculty instructions, no later than the last day of the examination period and has earned a GPA of at least 2.0. In certain circumstances, a student may find it necessary to request a grade of Incomplete (INC), in accordance with the rules above. All INC grades must be completed by the end of the following fall or spring semester or the grade will be converted to FIN. If the course is repeated, it will be a new registration and a second grade on the academic record.

When a student has accumulated more than one incomplete or a GPA below 2.0, he or she may be ineligible to continue in the program since satisfactory academic progress is not being made. Under certain circumstances, a student may be required to carry a reduced course load to improve the GPA or be required to postpone further registration until the INC grades are completed. Typically, students may register for additional courses with one INC grade. Of course, all such academic reviews take into consideration individual circumstances and the potential for improvement.

In addition to academic consequences, failure to make satisfactory academic progress may have implications for the award of financial aid.

Grading Policies – Graduate

The graduate student's SLU grade (A, B, C, or F) reflects assessment by the instructor of key course components. The following grades are assigned:

INC - Incomplete. This is a temporary grade. The outstanding work must be completed by end of the following fall or spring semester. When the course work is completed and the final grade received, the INC grade will be replaced. A graduate student has until the last day of final exams after two regular semesters to finish an outstanding INC grade. Specifically, Fall incomplete grades should resolve by the end of the following Fall, Spring by the end of the following Spring, and Summer by the end of the following Spring as well.
W - Withdrawal. A permanent grade requested by the student after the Add/Drop period, and before the deadline in the academic calendar. This grade is assigned by the Registrar and Student Services at the written request of the student. It does not affect the grade point average.

WA - Administrative Withdrawal. This grade, which does not affect the grade point average, is administratively assigned.

WN - Never attended. Calculated as the equivalent of a "W" in the GPA.

WU - Unofficial Withdrawal. The grade is calculated as an "F" and the student may be barred from future registrations. It is assigned by the instructor if the student stops participating.

Satisfactory Academic Progress & Appeals
The minimum passing grade in a graduate course is a C. Students need a B or better average in order to graduate with a master's degree at CUNY, and must maintain a B or better average every semester attending. If the GPA in any semester falls below a B, the student will be placed on probation until such time as the average is raised above a B. Conditions for students on probation that will enable them to raise their GPA will be determined by the graduate degree program they are seeking.

Students who receive a failing grade (F, WU, or an INC that reverts to an FIN if not completed) can repeat the same course at CUNY SLU. If the grade obtained is a B or better, the student may petition the Registrar to drop the grade of F from the computation of the GPA. The failing grade remains on the transcript. The F- Replacement option can be used for only one graduate course at CUNY SLU. This F- Replacement option cannot be used for an F resulting from an academic integrity violation.

Incomplete Grade Policy
A student may request a grade of incomplete for a course from their faculty member. To be eligible, the student must have completed over 50 percent of the work required for the course by the time the request is made. If the faculty member agrees to grant an incomplete, the student and faculty member must fill out a form stating the due date for the remaining material owed in the class. The faculty member will submit an incomplete grade (“INC”) for that semester. Extraordinary circumstances will be reviewed by the Office of Academic Affairs.

An INC is a temporary grade. If the work is not completed on time, the INC is converted to a permanent grade of FIN on the record. The course instructor may grant the INC at the request of the student if participation requirements have been met and the only outstanding work is a paper, project, or examination.

Undergraduate Academic Probation and Dismissal Policy

Good Academic Standing
The cumulative grade point average (GPA) is the numerical equivalent of a letter grade. Students are expected to maintain a cumulative 2.0 GPA. Students whose cumulative GPA falls below 2.0 will be placed on Academic Probation.
Academic Probation
Students will be placed on academic probation at the end of the fall/spring semester in which the cumulative GPA falls below 2.0. While on academic probation, students may only register for 2 courses per semester until the cumulative GPA is raised to 2.0 or higher.

Academic Dismissal
Students whose cumulative GPA remains below 2.0 for three consecutive semesters will be dismissed at the end of the fall/spring semester for a period of one academic year. Students may apply for readmission at the end of the academic year.

Academic Integrity
Academic dishonesty is prohibited in The City University of New York. Penalties for academic dishonesty include academic sanctions, such as failing or otherwise reduced grades, and/or disciplinary sanctions, including suspension or expulsion. Faculty who suspect violations of academic integrity should complete the Faculty Report Form and email the completed form to academic.integrity@slu.cuny.edu

1. Definitions and Examples of Academic Dishonesty

1. Cheating is the unauthorized use or attempted use of material, information, notes, study aids, devices or communication during an academic exercise.

   Examples of cheating include:

   ▪ Copying from another student during an examination or allowing another to copy your work.
   ▪ Unauthorized collaboration on a take home assignment or examination.
   ▪ Using notes during a closed book examination.
   ▪ Taking an examination for another student, or asking or allowing another student to take an examination for you.
   ▪ Changing a graded exam and returning it for more credit.
   ▪ Submitting substantial portions of the same paper to more than one course without consulting with each instructor.
   ▪ Preparing answers or writing notes in a blue book (exam booklet) before an examination.
   ▪ Allowing others to research and write assigned papers or do assigned projects, including using commercial term paper services.
   ▪ Giving assistance to acts of academic misconduct/ dishonesty.
   ▪ Fabricating data (in whole or in part).
   ▪ Falsifying data (in whole or in part).
   ▪ Submitting someone else's work as your own.
     ▪ Unauthorized use during an examination of any electronic devices such as cell phones, computers or other technologies to retrieve or send information.

2. Plagiarism is the act of presenting another person's original ideas, research or writings as your own.

   Examples of plagiarism include:
• Copying another person's actual words or images without the use of quotation marks and footnotes attributing the words to their source.
• Presenting another person's ideas or theories in your own words without acknowledging the source.
• Failing to acknowledge collaborators on homework and laboratory assignments.
• Internet plagiarism, including submitting downloaded term papers or parts of term papers, paraphrasing or copying information from the internet without citing the source, or "cutting & pasting" from various sources without proper attribution.

3. Obtaining Unfair Advantage is any action taken by a student that gives that student an unfair advantage in his/her academic work over another student, or an action taken by a student through which a student attempts to gain an unfair advantage in his or her academic work over another student. Examples of obtaining unfair advantage include:
   • Stealing, reproducing, circulating or otherwise gaining advance access to examination materials.
   • Depriving other students of access to library materials by stealing, destroying, defacing, or concealing them.
   • Retaining, using or circulating examination materials which clearly indicate that they should be returned at the end of the exam.
   • Intentionally obstructing or interfering with another student's work.

4. Falsification of Records and Official Documents

   Examples of falsification include:
   • Forging signatures of authorization.
   • Falsifying information on an official academic record.
   • Falsifying information on an official document such as a grade report, letter of permission, drop/add form, ID card or other college document.

2. Methods for Promoting Academic Integrity

1. Packets containing a copy of the CUNY Policy on Academic Integrity and, if applicable, the college's procedures implementing the Policy, and information explaining the Policy and procedures shall be distributed to all current faculty and, on an annual basis to all new faculty (full and part-time) These packets also shall be posted on each college's website. Orientation sessions for all new faculty (full and part-time) and students shall incorporate a discussion of academic integrity.

2. All college catalogs, student handbooks, faculty handbooks, and college websites shall include the CUNY Policy on Academic Integrity and, if applicable, college procedures implementing the policy and the consequences of not adhering to the Policy.

3. Each college shall subscribe to an electronic plagiarism detection service and shall notify students of the fact that such a service is available for use by the faculty. Colleges shall encourage faculty members to use such services and to inform students of their use of such services.

3. Reporting

1. Each college's president shall appoint an Academic Integrity Officer in consultation with the elected faculty governance leader. The Academic Integrity Officer shall serve as the initial contact person with faculty members when they report incidents of suspected academic dishonesty. The Academic Integrity Officer may be the college's Student Conduct Officer, another student affairs official, an academic affairs official, or a tenured faculty member. Additional duties of the Academic Integrity Officer are described in Sections 4.1, 4.2.1, 4.2.2, 4.3 and 4.4.

2. A faculty member who suspects that a student has committed a violation of the CUNY Academic Integrity Policy shall review with the student the facts and circumstances of the suspected violation whenever feasible. Thereafter, a faculty member who concludes that there has been an incident of academic dishonesty sufficient to affect the student's final course grade shall report such incident on a Faculty Report Form in substantially the same format as the sample annexed to this Policy and shall submit the Form to the college's Academic Integrity Officer. Each college shall use a uniform form throughout the college, which shall contain, at a minimum, the name of the instructor, the name of the student, the course name and number and section number, the date of the incident, a description of the incident and the instructor's contact information.

3. The Academic Integrity Officer shall update the Faculty Report Form after a suspected incident has been resolved to reflect that resolution. Unless the resolution exonerates the student, as described in Section 4.4, the Academic Integrity Officer of each college shall place the Form in a confidential academic integrity file created for each student alleged to have violated the Academic Integrity Policy and shall retain each Form for the purposes of identifying repeat offenders, gathering data, and assessing and reviewing policies. Unless the student is exonerated, written decisions on academic integrity matters after adjudication also shall be placed in the student's academic integrity file. The Academic Integrity Officer shall be responsible for maintaining students' academic integrity files.

4. Procedures for Imposition of Sanctions
   1. Determination on academic vs. disciplinary sanction The Academic Integrity Officer shall determine whether to seek a disciplinary sanction in addition to an academic sanction. In making this determination, the Academic Integrity Officer shall consult with the faculty member who initiated the case and may consult with student affairs and/or academic affairs administrators as needed. Before determining which sanction(s) to seek, the Academic Integrity Officer also shall consult the student's confidential academic integrity file, if any, to determine whether the student has been found to have previously committed a violation of the Academic Integrity Policy, the nature of the infraction, and the sanction imposed or action taken. Prior violations include both violations at the student's current college and violations that occurred at any other CUNY college. In making the determination on prior violations, the Academic Integrity Officer shall determine whether the student previously attended any other CUNY colleges and, if so, shall request and be given access to the academic integrity files, if any, at such other CUNY colleges.

   The Academic Integrity Officer should seek disciplinary sanctions only if (i) there is a substantial violation; or (ii) the student has previously violated the Policy; or (iii) academic sanctions are unable to be imposed because the student has timely withdrawn from the applicable course. Examples of substantial violations include but are not limited to forging a grade form or a transcript; stealing an examination from a professor or a university office; having a substitute take an examination or taking an examination for someone else; having someone else write a paper for the student or writing a paper for another student; sabotaging another student's work through actions that prevent or impede the other student from successfully completing an assignment; and violations committed by a graduate or professional student or a student who will seek professional licensure. The college also should consider any mitigating circumstances in making this determination.

2. Procedures in Cases Involving Only Academic Sanctions

1. Student Admits to the Academic Dishonesty and Does Not Contest the Academic Sanction

If a faculty member wishes to seek only an academic sanction (i.e., a reduced grade) and the student does not contest either his/her guilt or the particular reduced grade the faculty member has chosen, then the student shall be given the reduced grade, unless the Academic Integrity Officer decides to seek a disciplinary sanction. The reduced grade may apply to the particular assignment as to which the violation occurred or to the course grade, at the faculty member's discretion. A reduced grade may be an "F" or another grade that is lower than the grade that the student would have earned but for the violation.

The faculty member shall inform the Academic Integrity Officer of the resolution via email and the Officer shall update the applicable Faculty Report Form to reflect that resolution.

2. Student Admits to the Academic Dishonesty but Contests the Academic Sanction

In a case where a student admits to the alleged academic dishonesty but contests the particular academic sanction imposed, the student may appeal the academic sanction through the college's grade appeal process. The student shall be allowed, at a minimum, an opportunity to present a written position with supporting evidence. The committee reviewing the appeal shall issue a written decision explaining the justification for the academic sanction imposed.

3. Student Denies the Academic Dishonesty

In a case where a student denies the academic dishonesty, a fact-finding determination shall be made, at each college's option, by an Academic Integrity Committee established by the college's governance body or by the Student-Faculty Disciplinary Committee established under Article XV of the CUNY Bylaws. Each college's Academic Integrity Committee shall adopt procedures for hearing cases. (If a college opts to use its Student-Faculty Disciplinary Committee for this purpose, that Committee shall use Article XV procedures.) Those procedures, at a minimum, shall provide a student with (i) written notice of the charges against him or her; (ii) the right to appear before the Committee; and (iii) the right to present witness statements and/or to call witnesses. Those procedures also shall provide the faculty member with the right to make an appearance before the Committee. The Committee may request the testimony of any witness and may permit any such witness to be questioned by the student and by the administrator presenting the case. Academic Integrity Committees and Student-Faculty Disciplinary Committees, as applicable, shall issue written decisions and send copies of their decisions to the college's Academic Integrity Officer. The Academic Integrity Officer may not serve on a college's Academic Integrity Committee.

3. Procedures in Cases Involving Disciplinary Sanctions
If the college decides to seek a disciplinary sanction, the case shall be processed under Article XV of the CUNY Bylaws. If the case is not resolved through mediation under Article XV, it shall be heard by the college's Faculty-Student Disciplinary Committee.

If the college seeks to have both a disciplinary and an academic sanction imposed, the college shall proceed first with the disciplinary proceeding and await its outcome before addressing the academic sanction. The student's grade shall be held in abeyance by using the PEN grade established for this purpose, pending the Committee's action. If the Faculty-Student Disciplinary Committee finds that the alleged violation occurred, then the faculty member may reflect that finding in the student's grade. The student may appeal the finding in accordance with Article XV procedures and/or may appeal the grade imposed by the faculty member in accordance with section 4.2.2. If the Faculty-Student Disciplinary Committee finds that the alleged violation did not occur, then no sanction of any kind may be imposed.

Where a matter proceeds to the Faculty-Student Disciplinary Committee, the Academic Integrity Officer shall promptly report its resolution to the faculty member and file a record of the resolution in the student's confidential academic integrity file, unless, as explained below, the suspected violation was held to be unfounded.

4. Required Action in Cases of No Violation

If either the Academic Integrity Committee or the Faculty-Student Disciplinary Committee finds that no violation occurred, the Academic Integrity Officer shall remove all material relating to that incident from the student's confidential academic integrity file and destroy the material.

5. Implementation

SLU in accordance with its governance plan, shall implement this Policy and may adopt its own more specific procedures to implement the Policy. Colleges' procedures must be consistent with the policy and procedures described in the Policy.

Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) is a Federal law that protects the privacy of student education records. The law applies to all schools that receive funds under an applicable program of the U.S. Department of Education. It is also known as the Buckley Amendment.

- Students have the right to inspect, review and challenge the accuracy of his/her education records. Education records are those records which contain information directly related to the student and are maintained by the School or by a party acting for the School.
- Student records will not be released to the general public or to those outside the University without student consent. The only exception to this is "directory" information which the CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies defines and communicates to the students via the catalog and website. Our directory information includes name, address and telephone number, e-mail address, class level, degree information (including associated majors, minors, and certificates), dates of attendance, and full or part-time status.

- Directory information can be released without the student's consent UNLESS the student has requested directory exclusion status. Students can request directory exclusion status through the Registrar's Office. This status means the student’s name and other information is to be excluded from the printed directory and the online search through CUNYfirst. It also means the University will not release ANY information about the student without a signed release from the student. This status remains on the student's record indefinitely until the student requests in writing to the Registrar's Office that it be removed.

The CUNY SLU FERPA Consent to Release Educational Records form can be downloaded here.

Leave of Absence

Graduate Degree Student

A leave of absence may be approved for up to two semesters by requesting, and submitting, the Leave of Absence form from/to the program in which the student is enrolled. If the leave extends beyond two semesters, students must apply for readmission. While on leave, students may not attend other colleges or universities except with the written permission of the Department Chair for their program. Credit earned while on leave will not be accepted toward the degree or certificate unless prior approval has been obtained. In order to be granted a leave of absence, a student must be in good academic standing. A leave of absence cannot be used to avoid the consequences of poor academic performance or to circumvent a disciplinary procedure. If the request is made during the term and the student is registered, the request will be processed in accordance with the Refund Policy.

Note that taking a leave of absence can impact the student loan repayment timeline. Students who have an outstanding federal student loan or loan deferral for their undergraduate and/or graduate studies should contact the Office of Financial Aid before requesting a leave of absence to ensure that they understand the full financial impact.

Withdrawal

Students who wish to withdraw from a course can do so in CUNYfirst. A grade of W will post on the students record. Effective Fall 2020 the last date to withdraw is the last day of classes.

Readmission

Who should apply? Undergraduate and Graduate Students that previously were granted admission and attended CUNY SLU, have not graduated and have not been enrolled for one or more consecutive semesters.

Please complete the online readmission application if seeking to return to CUNY SLU as a degree seeking Master's candidate. A student can only be readmitted to the same Master’s program in which they were formerly accepted. (Those who have never applied nor been admitted to a CUNY SLU Master’s program should submit a new application for graduate admission.)
Readmission requirements and instructions:

First, verify that you are in good financial standing: Please contact the Bursar’s office to ensure that you do not have an outstanding balance at bursar@slu.cuny.edu or 646-313-8420.

If you have attended any other institution after you left the CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies, send an official transcript from each school attended to:

CUNY School of Labor and Urban
Studies Attn: Office of Admissions
25 West 43rd Street, 19th
Floor New York, NY 10036

Students who have already earned a certificate or degree from CUNY SLU and are now interested in pursuing a new degree program, should submit an admissions application for the new program in which they are interested.

Certificate students (undergraduate or graduate level) who previously attended CUNY SLU and are now seeking to return to finish their program should contact their respective academic department for information on returning to CUNY SLU.

Religious Observances

Education Law Section 224-a, stating the rights and privileges of students unable to attend classes on certain days because of religious beliefs, appears below, as mandated by New York State law.

1. No person shall be expelled from or be refused admission as a student for the reason that he or she is unable, because of his or her religious beliefs, to register or attend classes or to participate in any examination, study or work requirements on a particular day or days.
2. Any student who is unable, because of his or her religious beliefs, to attend classes on a particular day or days shall, because of such absence on the particular day or days, be excused from any examination or any study, or work requirements.
3. It shall be the responsibility of the faculty and the administrative officials to make available to each student who is absent from school because of his or her religious beliefs, an equivalent opportunity to register for classes or to make up any examination, study, or work requirements, which he or she may have missed because of such absence on any particular day or days. No fees of any kind shall be charged for making available to the said student such equivalent opportunity.
4. If registration, classes, examinations, study, or work requirements are held on Friday after four o’clock post meridian or on Saturday, similar or makeup classes, examinations, study, or work requirements or opportunity to register shall be made available on other days, where it is possible and practicable to do so. No special fees shall be charged to the student for these classes, examinations, study, or work requirements held on other days.
5. In effectuating the provisions of this section, it shall be the duty of the faculty and of the administrative officials to exercise the fullest measure of good faith. No adverse or prejudicial effects shall result to any student because of his/her availing himself/herself of the provisions of this section.
6. Any student who is aggrieved by the alleged failure of any faculty or administrative officials to comply in good faith with the provisions of this section shall be entitled to maintain an action or proceeding in the supreme court of the county in which the institution is located for the enforcement of his or her rights under this section.

Academic Honors and Awards

Dean’s List

Full Time Students

The Dean’s list notation will appear on the transcript of full time students (those taking 12 or more credits per term) in the term they achieve a GPA of 3.5 and above.

Part Time Students

The Dean’s list notation will appear on the transcript of part time students for each accumulation of 12 credits if they achieve a GPA of 3.5 and above.

Degree Honors for General Excellence

Latin Honors are computed using only those courses taken in the CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies and awarded when students have completed their baccalaureate degree with a final grade point average as follows:

- Cum Laude (with praise) 3.50
- Magna Cum Laude (with great praise) 3.75
- Summa Cum Laude (with highest praise) 3.85

Valedictorian are selected for having the highest GPA of the graduating class.

Student Appeals Policies & Procedures

Grade Appeals

In the academic community, grades are a measure of student achievement toward fulfillment of course objectives. The responsibility for assessing student achievement and assigning grades rests with the faculty, and, except for unusual circumstances, the course grade given is final.

The grade appeals system affords recourse to a student who has evidence or believes that evidence exists to show that an inappropriate grade has been assigned as a result of error, or that the method of assigning the grade is inconsistent with the method of assigning grades to other students.

Policy

The CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies (CUNY SLU) is responsible for determining the requirements and standards of performance for courses and for qualifying examinations CUNY SLU course instructors retain considerable discretion in these matters. The instructor is under obligation, however, to ensure that her/his course syllabus is consistent with the goals of the curriculum of the course. The grading standards in a given course shall reflect levels of difficulty related to the educational objectives of the program.

Instructors have an obligation to students to make clear the basis of evaluation (e.g., reading assignments,
Grade Appeal Procedures

A student who wishes to appeal a grade must initiate the process in the full semester following the semester in which the contested grade was received. Spring and Summer Session courses must be appealed during the following Fall semester, while Fall and Winter session courses must be appealed during the following Spring semester before the last day to withdraw and receive a “W” grade. Appeals that are not initiated by these deadlines will not be considered.

If a student believes that an error was made in the assignment of a grade, she/he should engage in Level 1 of the grade appeal process: speaking with the instructor of the course within 30 days following the posting of the grade. An email message or note requesting an appointment and explaining the problem will give the faculty member an opportunity to gather the appropriate course materials, papers, exams or other submissions so that the ensuing conversation can be meaningful. As a result of this conversation, a faculty member may correct an error and change the grade. If the problem is not resolved between the student and faculty member, the student may then elevate the communication to include the department chair, which constitutes Level 2 of the grade appeal process.

If, after Levels 1 and 2 of the grade appeal process, the issue remains unresolved, the student may initiate a formal grade appeal by completing and submitting a Level 3 Grade Appeal Form to grade.appeal@slu.cuny.edu.

This written Level 3 appeal must be received within 15 days after the completion of Level 2; thus initiating a process with the Academic Appeals Committee. The Academic Appeals Committee will make a decision within 30 days of meeting with all pertinent stakeholders. This Level 3 decision by the Academic Appeals Committee is final.

Be aware that the grade appeal process may result in the awarding of a lower grade than that which the student originally received.

Student Complaints

Academic Complaints

The University and its Colleges have a variety of procedures for dealing with student-related issues, including grade appeals, academic integrity violations, student discipline, disclosure of student records, student elections, sexual harassment complaints, disability accommodations, and discrimination. One area not generally covered by other procedures concerns student complaints about faculty conduct in the classroom or other formal academic settings. The University respects the academic freedom of the faculty and will not interfere with it as it relates to the content or style of teaching activities. Indeed, academic freedom is and should be of paramount importance. At the same time the University recognizes its responsibility to provide students with a procedure for addressing complaints about faculty treatment of students that are not protected by academic freedom and are not covered by other procedures. Examples might include incompetent or inefficient service, neglect of duty, physical or mental incapacity and conduct unbecoming a member of the staff.

CUNY Policy for handling student complaints pertaining to academics can be found here.

Non-Academic Complaints
The CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies is committed to providing a quality educational experience for all students and to fair treatment of all members of our campus community. The purpose of the Student Complaint Policy and Procedures is to ensure that student concerns about their experiences at SLU are addressed in a fair and timely manner.

The CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies policy for non-academic complaints can be found here.

Registrar
Immunization Records
It is the responsibility of Office of the Registrar to maintain CUNY’s compliance with Public Health Law 2165 which requires all students born after 12/31/1956 to present proof of immunizations against measles, mumps, and rubella. The immunization requirements are as follows:

1. Proof of two (2) doses of live measles virus vaccine given after 1968. The first dose should be administered on or after your first birthday and the second dose must be administered at least 28 days after the first dose. A blood test showing immunity to measles will also satisfy this requirement.
2. One dose of live mumps vaccine administered on or after your first birthday, or a blood test showing immunity.
3. One dose of live rubella vaccine administered on or after your first birthday or a blood test showing immunity.

Acceptable Proof of Immunization:

- vaccination card from childhood (i.e. yellow book signed and stamped):
- immunization records from your doctor’s office (SIGNED and STAMPED with your doctor’s license number by your doctor or clinic);
- high school or prior college’s immunization records;
- blood test (ORIGINAL LAB REPORT IS REQUIRED) proving immunity to measles, mumps, and rubella (MMR titer);
- certificate of immunization from INS or country of origin (for international students)*; or
- honorable discharge papers from military service, within 10 years of discharge*.

*typically these sources demonstrate only ONE dose of measles vaccine, so you might be required to provide additional materials documenting a second dose of measles vaccine.

In addition, New York State Public Health Law 2167 requires that all students (regardless of age) complete a Meningococcal Meningitis Vaccination Response Form to indicate that they have read and received information about Meningococcal Meningitis prior to registering for classes.

It is very important to submit these documents on time; failure to do so will prevent you from registering.
For more information about Immunization Requirements, click here. Click here for the CUNY SLU Immunization Record form. If you have any questions about the immunization requirements at CUNY School of Labor & Urban Studies, please call us at 646-313-8409 or email us at Healthservices@slu.cuny.edu

Change of Address
Students can change their mailing or home address on CUNYfirst. Click here for the Quick Reference Guide. Changes to your permanent address must be submitted to the Registrar’s Office using the Change of Permanent Address Form

The form is also available at https://slu.cuny.edu/current-students/registrar/updatepersonalinfo/

CUNYfirst
In 2017, CUNY began transitioning to a single set of login credentials, called the “CUNY Login,” for CUNY-wide applications and services such as Blackboard Office365, Dropbox, Virtual Desk (VDI) and DegreeWorks. The CUNY Login page has been introduced as an entry point for applications and services that use the CUNY Login credentials (CUNYfirst username@login.cuny.edu and CUNYfirst password) for authentication. Additional information can be found here.

Registration
Prior to Enrollment Date: Please log into your CUNYfirst account and review any holds you may have. All students must complete the Meningitis Acknowledgement in self-service. Also please note: If you are registering for six or more credits you must submit your immunization record.

Before the registration period, students must consult with their program advisor; plan a schedule of courses; and remove all holds (Bursar, Immunization, and Financial Aid).

Schedule Builder is an application tool that enables students to plan and register for courses that meet their schedules and other needs. This application shows courses listed in the University’s course schedule (i.e., CUNYfirst) and allows students to select those courses based on desired time, location, availability and other factors.

Before logging into Schedule Builder, please review the Schedule Builder Glossary

ePermit

Students who are currently enrolled in a degree program at a CUNY campus starting with the Spring 2019 may register for CUNY courses through ePermit. In many cases, CUNY SLU courses are considered equivalent to and may be substituted for courses in CUNY degree programs. Through ePermit, students file an online request to take a CUNY SLU course. As part of the ePermit process, registrars and faculty advisors at the student’s home college must approve this request. Students are kept informed via email of the status of their permit requests. If the student’s home college rejects the request, he or she is notified via email, with the reason indicated in the email message.

Degree Works

DegreeWorks is an online advisement tool for undergraduate students and their advisors that shows student progress toward completion of degree requirements. All currently registered CUNY SLU undergraduate students have a DegreeWorks account.

DegreeWorks functions as a self-advisement tool that allows students to regularly track their degree progress as well as to plan for future registrations. Students will be able to see how specific College requirements have been met and what courses they need to take to fulfill the requirements that are remaining.

What are the benefits of using DegreeWorks?

- Determine what requirements you need to fulfill in order to complete your degree.
- View individual course grades, cumulative grade-point average (GPA), and major average.
- Determine which courses you have taken or transferred, and which ones count as electives.
- View transfer credits, waivers, and exemptions applied towards your degree.
- See how your coursework could be applied toward another major, minor, certificate or major concentration using the “What if” option.
- Confirm your academic standing.
- Estimate how many semesters it will take you to graduate.

For questions about your DegreeWorks audit, please contact the registrar at CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies registrar@slu.cuny.edu.

Credit Hours

CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies – Credit Hour Policy and Compliance

The CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies degree and certificate programs are approved by the New York State Education Department (NYSED). The CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies credit hour calculations for degree and certificate programs follow NYSED guidelines, which are based on the U.S. Department of Education’s definition of credit hour.

- The faculty of the CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies is responsible for all aspects of the curriculum and degree program requirements. Each school has a faculty curriculum committee that reviews proposed new and revised courses and degree programs, including the credit hours associated with each.

NYSED – Credit Hour Definition

All courses and degree programs at the School must comply with Section 50.1 (o) of the New York State Commissioner of Education Regulations:

- Semester hour means a credit, point, or other unit granted for the satisfactory completion of a course which requires at least 15 hours (of 50 minutes each) of instruction and at least 30 hours of supplementary assignments, except as otherwise provided pursuant to section 52.2(c)(4) of this Subchapter. This basic measure shall be adjusted proportionately to translate the value of other academic calendars and formats of study in relation to the credit granted for study during the two semesters that comprise an academic year.

United States Department of Education – Credit Hour Definition

The U.S. Department of Education defines credit hour as: An amount of work represented in intended learning outcomes and verified by evidence of student achievement that is an institutionally established equivalency that reasonably approximates not less than:

1. one hour of classroom or direct faculty instruction and a minimum of two hours of out-of-class student work for approximately fifteen weeks for one semester or trimester hour of credit, or ten to twelve weeks for one quarter hour of credit, or the equivalent amount of work over a different amount of time; or,

2. at least an equivalent amount of work as required in paragraph (1) of this definition for other academic activities as established by the institution, including laboratory work, internships, practica, studio work, and other academic work leading to the award of credit hours.
Middle States Commission on Higher Education
The Middle States Commission on Higher Education expects all candidate and accredited institutions to demonstrate that they use acceptable and consistent methods for assigning credit hours to all courses and programs of study. The credit hour is defined by the U.S. Department of Education as a basic institutional measure of the level of instruction and academic rigor that establishes eligibility for federal funding.

1 credit = 15 hours per semester  3 credits = 45 hours per semester  4 credits = 60 hours per semester

Credit hours = 750 minutes per semester 50 minutes x 15 weeks. Credit hour policy

Senior Citizen Charges

New York City residents 60 years of age or older may enroll as non-matriculated audit only students, on a tuition-free, space-available basis. Senior citizen students do not receive grades or academic credit. Senior Citizens who wish to enroll for credit may opt to do so on the same basis as any other degree-credit student and pay the applicable tuition and fees.

An administrative fee will be charged in addition to other applicable fees (such as the CUNY Consolidated Fee per term).

- $65 general fee due at the time of registration
- $15 consolidated services fee due at the time of registration

Auditors are also responsible for the costs of any course materials, such as textbooks.

Non-Credit Tuition and Fee Schedule

For non-credit course tuition and fees please call the contact listed on the program page.

All tuition charges and fees listed herein, or in any registration materials issued by the CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies, are subject to change by action of the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York without prior notice. In the event of any increase in tuition charges and fees, payments already made to the CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies will be treated as partial payment.
CUNY degree students taking a School of Labor and Urban Studies course on permit do not pay the application fee and only pay tuition to their home college.

Refund Policy

Students who do not plan to attend must drop or withdraw on CUNYfirst. Absence from or failure to attend class(es) or non-receipt of a bill from the School of Labor and Urban Studies does not defer the due dates or relieve students of their financial responsibility to the University.

Students that drop or withdraw on or after the first official day of classes will be responsible for paying all or a portion of tuition and fees in accordance with the University’s published tuition adjustment schedule in effect at the time the withdrawal or drop is recorded (see: Academic Calendar). Non-instructional fees are never prorated or waived.

- Courses dropped before the official first day of the semester: 100% refund
- Courses dropped as of the semester’s first official day through the Withdrawal (W) date: 75%, 50%, or 25% refund
- Courses dropped as of the Withdrawal (W) date: 0% refund

For mailed requests, the postmark date determines qualification for the refund. Students enrolled under special program initiatives may have adjusted refund dates. No fees are refunded due to withdrawal. This schedule is not applicable to withdrawals due to the military, Peace Corps, or leaves for other national service, and is subject to change by action of the Board of Trustees of The City University of New York (CUNY). For courses that meet for less than 7 weeks: the refund policy will be published with the class schedule.

Eligible credit balances* are refunded in a weekly payment cycle run by the University and will reach the student within 1-2 weeks. However, checks, eChecks, and 529 Plan payments are subject to a 21-day waiting period before CUNYfirst is able to release refunds back to students. By default, refunds are released standard mail to the student’s mailing address on file. Once the check is mailed, it should arrive within 5-7 business days.

Checks expire five months or 150-days from the check date. Students should cash their refund check promptly by depositing it into their bank account or cashing it for free at any Citibank branch. Students who enroll in direct deposit will no longer receive paper checks by mail. All refunds, except for those from a Parent-Plus Loan, are made payable to the student. This includes check payments made from an account owned by a parent, guardian, or other relation.

*A credit balance on your billing statement typically indicates you are due a refund, but that is not always the case. Credit balances from certain financial aid, scholarships or third-party payments cannot be refunded to a student. It is best to inquire with the Bursar@slu.cuny.edu for more information.

Reductions in financial aid or other credits that occur after a refund was released will cause a due balance and must be paid back to the College immediately.
Employer and Union Vouchers

Student Account Services will defer any portion of a student’s tuition and fees to a third-party after an authorization is provided from the sponsoring agent (i.e., state and federal agencies, international embassies, military agencies, prepaid college programs, employers, etc.). Sponsors that will not remit payment directly to the College do not qualify. A valid billing authorization, letter of credit, or voucher must be submitted before the term posted due date. During the deferment period, the student will only be responsible for any amount the sponsor does not cover. If, for any reason, the sponsor does not pay the total amount deferred, the liability will be transferred back to the student.

Online Payments

To make a payment online:

- Log on to your CUNYfirst account
- Click on the Self-Service tab
- Click on the link to the Student Center

We accept American Express, Visa, MasterCard, and Discover. Please note, there is 2.65%, non-refundable service fee applied to each transaction.

An electronic check (eCheck) is accepted with no service fee or additional cost to the student. An eCheck performs the same function as a conventional paper check. If an eCheck is returned, the student will be charged a $20.00 returned check fee. Students will also be prevented from using paper/electronic personal checks in the future.
