SCHOLARSHIP MANAGER SYSTEM

Scholarship Manager is a fully integrated scholarship application and awarding system.

Scholarship Applications

- Most of SLU's scholarship applications are accessible through the online Scholarship Manager System. Some SLU scholarships, however, do not necessitate an application. In such cases, eligibility is determined using alternative means (e.g., selection through the admissions process, affiliation with a partnership, or other qualification). We highly recommend you thoroughly review the requirements for each opportunity and take careful note of the application criteria and/or conditions for selection.
- There are two application types in Scholarship Manager: Smart or Specific.
 - SLU Scholarship Application (Smart): By leveraging responses in key categories, along with the data available in CUNYfirst, the application can accurately identify the opportunities for which you are eligible to apply. This way, you will be able to apply for multiple scholarships in one convenient form!
 - Specific Application: These applications equally intuitive but are tailored for niche opportunities that may have very specific requirements, non-standard open/close dates, or other unique criteria (e.g., Persistence Grant Application, Diversity Scholarship Application).
- Before claiming a Scholarship Manager Account, you are required to accept an offer of admissions from SLU. Please be advised that account activation may take 3-5 days.
- To be eligible for a SLU Scholarship, you must be enrolled as a degree or certificate-seeking student. Non-degree and e-permit students are not eligible to apply.

Note: External scholarships listed in SLU's Online Catalog cannot be submitted through the Scholarship Manager System. By clicking the black "Apply Now" button, you will be redirected to the organization's website and must follow their instructions to complete the application process.

Award Notifications

- Award notifications are released to your SLU3 email address from the Scholarship Manager System. Following the committee's decision, applicants will receive notifications regarding either an award or non-award status.
- Please note that while committees strive to review applications promptly, there is no fixed turnaround time for application decisions. We appreciate applicants' understanding and patience throughout this process.
- Currently, notifications regarding awards from the YLB Fund and Petrie Emergency Grant are released outside of the Scholarship Manager System.

Reviewing Awards

- You can review the scholarships awarded to you by logging into the Scholarship Manager System and selecting "My Awards". The information displayed in "My Awards" is accurate at the time of viewing, yet it may be subject to change based on established criteria, such as enrollment activity, college policy, aid restrictions, and other relevant factors governing adjustments to awarded scholarships.
- Scholarship awards will not immediately reflect on your tuition statement in CUNYfirst until the award season concludes. When you log in to CUNYfirst, you may see the full tuition balance initially. Do not be alarmed; this is a standard process. You are only responsible to pay any out-of-pocket costs by the due date. To determine your out-of-pocket costs, review your bill and subtract any scholarships you are receiving for that semester. You can easily access and print your award details through the Scholarship Manager System.
- Awards of $1 serve as a placeholder, indicating that the system is unable to calculate a value due to no enrollment for the upcoming semester. To ensure accurate award determination, we kindly urge you to register for courses at your earliest convenience.

Award Disbursement Process

- Scholarship awards migrate from the Scholarship Manager System to CUNYfirst once the award season wraps up. These awards will initially appear as "pending" in your account and will automatically move to a "disbursed" or "paid out" status within 30 days of the University Census, as specified on the Academic Calendar. You will not need to take any additional steps.

Required Aid Year: 2024 – 2025

Even if you're uncertain about your eligibility for federal or state aid, completing the FAFSA is crucial. The information obtained from your FAFSA is essential for our committees to assess your qualification for some SLU scholarships. All students, regardless of their citizenship status, are eligible to file a FAFSA.

- Students with a Social Security Number can submit a FAFSA electronically.
- Students without a Social Security Number cannot file an electronic FAFSA. You can, however, request a paper FAFSA by calling 1-800-4-FED-AID. Complete the paper form and mail it for processing. Please note that the paper-based process typically takes longer for completion.

Our Financial Aid Office is here to assist you with completing a FAFSA. For assistance, feel free to reach out to them at financialaid@slu.cuny.edu. You can also find more information on our website.

PREPARING YOUR SCHOLARSHIP APPLICATION

- Stay Ahead of Deadlines: Keep track of when scholarship applications open and close by regularly checking the CUNY-SLU website and Scholarship Manager: Important Deadlines. There you will find the most up-to-date and precise information regarding application deadlines, ensuring you never miss out on valuable opportunities.
- Pay Attention to Details: Take the time to read through the instructions provided within the scholarship application. Thoroughly review your responses before submission, ensuring they are accurate and comprehensive. Precision in your application increases your chances of success.
- Organize Attachments: Some scholarships will require transcripts, a professional resume, and/or letters of reference. It's crucial to plan and collect all required documentation well in advance. Waiting until the last minute is not advisable, as it could jeopardize your chances of being considered for the scholarship. Allocate ample time to gather these materials, as they play a pivotal role in enhancing the strength of your application.
 - Letters of Recommendation
 - Please note that you should not collect a letter from your recommender with the expectation of uploading or emailing it. Instead, recommenders are added directly to the application. You will be prompted to include their full name and email address. Once added, your recommenders will receive an email containing a secure link and PIN to complete the online recommendation form. This notification is triggered as soon as you add them to the application; you do not need to submit the application for your recommender to be notified. We strongly advise informing your chosen recommender in advance, so they know to expect an email from notify@ngwebsolutions.com.
 - Your recommender must complete and submit the online recommendation form. They will have the option to add an attachment, which could be a written letter, but this is entirely optional. Please be advised, emailed recommendation letters will not be accepted!

- If your recommender has not received the secure email, first ensure that you have entered their email address correctly. If your recommender is using a corporate/campus email, their institution's firewall could be blocking the message. You may suggest they check their spam folder or ask them to provide an alternative email address.
 - To track the progress of your recommendations, including those complete and pending, please access the Scholarship Manager System by logging in. Navigate to 'My Applications' to review your responses or 'Manage/Edit Letters of Recommendation.'
[Scholarship Manager > My Applications > \[Select Application\] > Manager/Edit Letters of Recommendation](#)
 - For recommendations that have been pending for a while, you have the option to send a reminder or withdraw the recommender and replace them with a new one.
- Craft Compelling Essays: When tasked with writing an essay, prioritize impeccable grammar, spelling, and punctuation. Consider seeking a second pair of eyes to proofread your work for polish and accuracy. Should you require assistance in shaping your scholarship essay, SLU's Learning Hub is at your service. Reach out to them for guidance in creating a captivating and well-structured essay that showcases your strengths and aspirations. Your success is paramount to us, and we are committed to providing the support you need to excel in your scholarship pursuits.

Scholarship Opportunities

CUNY SCHOOL OF LABOR AND URBAN STUDIES
THE CITY UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

IMPORTANT SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION

All scholarships are subject to financial availability. The CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies reserves the right to reduce or cancel a scholarship if financial circumstances dictate, or if the awardee no longer meets eligibility requirements. Scholarships are paid to eligible students enrolled in degree or certificate programs only. Recipients must use the scholarship during the period in which it is awarded. Once a decision has been rendered, applicants will be notified by e-mail. Decisions are final and cannot be appealed.

When a scholarship mentions that it "may be reduced by other gift aid," it means that if you receive additional financial assistance, such as grants, fellowships, or scholarships from other sources, the total amount of the scholarship you originally received might be adjusted or decreased. For example, if you were awarded a scholarship for $2,000, but then you also receive a $1,000 grant from another organization, the scholarship amount could be reduced to avoid an over-award situation where you are receiving more aid than the total cost of your education. This is a common practice to ensure that financial assistance is distributed fairly and appropriately to cover educational expenses without exceeding the overall need or cost.

When a scholarship stipulates that it "cannot be used for other educational expenses," it means that the funds provided by the scholarship are restricted and can only be used for specific purposes, typically limited to tuition and fees. Other educational expenses, such as textbooks, room and board, transportation, or personal expenses, may not be covered by the scholarship. In essence, the scholarship is designated for a specific category of costs, usually the direct costs associated with attending an educational institution and cannot be applied to other non-tuition expenses. It's important for recipients to be aware of these limitations and plan their budget accordingly, seeking additional financial assistance or personal funds to cover expenses beyond tuition and fees.

Scholarships may have specific citizenship requirements as part of their application criteria.

For example, some opportunities may be designed exclusively for certain immigrant populations or only for legal U.S. residents. If such criteria exists, it will be explicitly stated in the requirements section of the scholarship description.

Opportunities without a defined resident or immigrant status may have payment restrictions based on their funding source. These restrictions may limit scholarship awards to legal residents or permanent residents of the United States only, excluding individuals in various non-resident categories. This may include undocumented individuals as well as those with pending permanent resident, asylum, or refugee status, DACA, and TPS. Applicants who have additional questions about their eligibility due to their non-resident status should contact studentaccounts@slu.cuny.edu.

- Naturalized Citizen: A person who lives in the United States and is legally authorized to do so.
- Legal Permanent Resident: Often referred to as a "green card" holder, this person has been granted the right to live and work in the United States permanently.
- F1/J1 Visa Holder: Non-immigrant visas for individuals who are in the United States for academic studies (F1) or participating in an exchange program (J1).
- Refugee: An individual who has been forced to flee their country due to persecution, war, or violence and has been granted asylum in the United States.
- Asylee: An individual who has been granted asylum in the United States after fleeing persecution in their home country.
- Pending Permanent Resident Status: Individuals who have applied for permanent residency (a green card) and are awaiting approval.
- Pending Refugee Status: Individuals who have applied for refugee status and are awaiting approval to enter the United States as refugees.
- Pending Asylum Status: Individuals who have applied for asylum in the United States and are awaiting a decision on their application.
- DACA (Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals): A policy allowing individuals brought to the United States as children without legal immigration status to receive a renewable two-year period of deferred action from deportation and become eligible for a work permit.

- TPS (Temporary Protected Status): A temporary status granted to eligible nationals of designated countries who are present in the United States and unable to return safely due to conditions in their home countries.
- Undocumented: An individual residing in the United States without legal immigration status.

CUNY-SLU JOSEPH S. MURPHY SCHOLARSHIP FOR DIVERSITY IN LABOR

Promoting Diversity and Excellence in Union Leadership and Labor Studies

About

Over the past 50 years, the demographics of the U.S. labor force have changed significantly. Each year since 2013, the City University of New York has supported the Joseph S. Murphy Scholarship for Diversity in Labor by providing an annual challenge-grant. The CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies raises matching funds annually with donations from generous individuals and organizations representing various sectors and professions, including labor unions, academia, non-profit organizations, and businesses.

The JSM Scholarship for Diversity offers undergraduate students $335 per credit hour and graduate students $1,000 per credit hour. Undergraduate awards are capped at $20,000, while graduate awards are capped at $30,000. 2. How long will I receive this scholarship?

The scholarship duration is up to three academic years or nine consecutive semesters (fall, spring, and summer). Awardees seeking an extension beyond this period must submit a request to the Office of Academic Affairs.

3. Can this scholarship pay other educational costs?

Yes, the scholarship can cover other educational expenses beyond tuition and fees. Initially, it's applied to tuition and fees, and any surplus is refunded to the awardee. Students can use this refund for textbooks, transportation, and other college-related expenses

4. Can I receive gift aid from other sources if I am awarded this scholarship?

The Diversity Scholarship will not be reduced or canceled if an awardee chooses to utilize other non-refundable employer benefits, scholarships, or financial aid to cover part or all their tuition. Questions about Financial Aid should be directed to financialaid@slu.cuny.edu or (212) 817-7460.

5. Can I receive a refund from this scholarship if it pays more than what I owe?

Yes, the scholarship can cover other educational expenses beyond tuition and fees. Initially, it's applied to tuition and fees, and any surplus is refunded to the awardee. Students can use this refund for textbooks, transportation, and other college-related expenses. However, it may be modified if you drop your courses.

Cancelations

1. Is this scholarship canceled if I drop or withdraw from courses?

Scholarship recipients are encouraged to consider all factors before deciding to drop or withdraw from their courses.

A SLU Scholarship is an investment in our students, and we encourage recipients to take their studies seriously. Awardees who drop or withdraw may have their scholarship revoked, so we advise caution when taking such action.

- Awardees must be enrolled by the census date for the scholarship to be authorized for disbursement.
- If the scholarship program has a maximum number of award installments, payments for dropped courses are deducted from that total.
- Dropping or withdrawing from all courses in a term will lead to cancellation of future scholarship installments. To reverse this, an approved Registration Appeal or Leave of Absence (LOA) must be on file with the Office of Student Accounts.

Note: All students have the option to drop individual courses or their entire schedule until the census date. When a class is dropped, the class is removed and will not appear on a transcript. Tuition is billed for any course or courses dropped on or after the first official day of the semester. Once the drop period is over, students must withdraw to cancel their classes. Tuition is not adjusted during the withdrawal period, which means course costs are billed at the full rate. "Withdrawal" appears on the transcript but is not calculated into the GPA.

2. Is this scholarship canceled if I take a leave of absence?

Awardees are expected to complete their program without interruptions. Diversity Scholarships may be deferred to the next semester of enrollment if a Leave of Absence (LOA) or similar condition is approved by the Registrar's Office. Without this approval, the scholarship will not be reinstated upon return.

3. What happens if my GPA falls below the minimum requirement?

Awardees must maintain the minimum GPA for their academic level: 2.5 for undergraduates and 3.0 for graduates. Falling below these thresholds will result in being placed on academic warning, with one additional semester given to raise the GPA. Failure to meet the minimum GPA requirement will result in scholarship cancellation. It's important to note that Diversity Scholarships do not cover repeated courses.

Academic Advisement

All students enrolled in CUNY School of Labor and Urban Studies degree programs must meet with an academic advisor prior to the start of each semester. The goal is to determine the best course of study to meet scholarship and degree requirements. Click here to find your advisor

Healthcare Options for Non-NYS Residents

Students with a permanent residence outside of New York State should contact the health insurance marketplace within the state in which they reside. Since each state offers a variety of healthcare plans and options and have differing requirements for eligibility, students will need to discuss their specific case with the appropriate state-affiliated healthcare advisor.

1. Is my scholarship canceled if I drop or withdraw from courses?

Scholarship recipients are encouraged to consider all factors before deciding to drop or withdraw from their courses.

A SLU Scholarship is an investment in our students, and we encourage recipients to take their studies seriously. Awardees who drop or withdraw may have their scholarship revoked, so we advise caution when taking such action.

- Awardees must be enrolled in at least 3-credits by the census date for the scholarship to be authorized for disbursement.
- Dropping or withdrawing from all courses in a term will lead to cancellation of future scholarship installments. To reverse this, an approved Registration Appeal or Leave of Absence (LOA) must be on file with the Office of Student Accounts.
- If the scholarship program has a maximum number of award installments, payments for dropped courses are deducted from that total.

Note: All students have the option to drop individual courses or their entire schedule until the census date. When a class is dropped, the class is removed and will not appear on a transcript. Tuition is billed for any course or courses dropped on or after the first official day of the semester. Once the drop period is over, students must withdraw to cancel their classes. Tuition is not adjusted during the withdrawal period, which means course costs are billed at the full rate. "Withdrawal" appears on the transcript but is not calculated into the GPA.

2. Is my scholarship canceled if I take a leave of absence?

Forward Scholarships may be deferred to the next semester of enrollment if a Leave of Absence (LOA) or similar condition is approved by the Registrar's Office.

3. What happens if my GPA falls below the minimum requirement?

Awardees whose GPA falls below the minimum requirements will not continue to receive a Forward Scholarship and/or will no longer be eligible to apply until their GPA meets the application requirements.
